The Brooklyn Bridge

The paragraph below tells about a special date in May history. Can you find and mark ten errors in the paragraph? You might look for errors of capitalization, punctuation, spelling, or grammar.

On a cool spring day in April of the year 1910, William Howard Taft became the first US president to start the baseball season by throwing out the first pitch. He had come to League Park in Washington, D.C. to see the Senators play the A's. His tradition has carried on every since. President Obama will start the 2011 baseball season by throwing out the first pitch in April.

The Brooklyn Bridge in New York City was first opened to the public in May 1883. At the time, it was the largest suspension bridge in the world. The bridge spans the East River and connects the boroughs of Brooklyn and Manhattan. It took workers 13 years to build the bridge, which attracts visitors from all over the World.