

Find how many radians there are in half a circle and in a whole circle. Approximate the middle of the circle, the radius, and an arc on the perimeter the length of the radius. Continue finding radius length arcs to discover how many radians there are in the circle.

