

Vegetable Gardens

Read about vegetable gardens and then answer the questions.

Vegetable gardens can be planted in many different places. You can plant a garden right in the ground. You can build a box, called a raised bed, that you fill with soil and plant a garden in.

You can plant vegetable plans in containers. Lettuce, tomatoes, beans and herbs are the best plants for container gardens.

1. What type of garden is planted in a box? _____

2. What is one plant that does best in a container? _____

3. Draw a picture of the type of garden you would like to have.

