

Bird Migration

Read about bird migration and then answer the questions.

Birds have a very hard time when they are migrating. Some birds fly hundreds or even thousands of miles in just a few weeks. They fly across oceans and mountains. They have to stop to eat and drink and can have a very hard time finding food and water. Birds are very tired when they are migrating. They need to watch for animals that might want to eat them while they are resting.

(From: <https://www.audubon.org/news/game-follow-birds-migration-story>)

1. What do some birds fly across? _____

2. What do birds have a hard time finding? _____

3. How do birds feel when they are migrating? _____

4. What do birds need to watch for while they are resting? _____
