Falling, Falling

Pretend that you are a snowflake and write a story describing your journey from when you form to what happens next.